Brendan Jenkins

The Panther
Princeton, Texas

1974

Foreword

The Panther Staff this year would like to present the 1974 annual using the theme "Sing." This theme was chosen because music fills such a great deal of our lives. Throughout our book the divisions are presented with songs.

"I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing"-Faculty

"You've Got a Friend"-Activities

"United We Stand"-Athletics

"I've Got a Name"-Personalities

"Stuck in the Middle"-Junior High

"Playgrounds in My Mind"-Elementary

PHS Marching Band

Mrs. Marilyn Mattei
Band Director

The Princeton High School Band is in its fifth year of growth. Although it has made most of its progress in the past two years, bandsmen are still working to improve their organization. This year the band has made quite a few accomplishments and received several honors. They attended the North Texas Homecoming game last fall and performed on the field there with several other bands, including the North Texas University Marching Band. The band was well represented in the North Texas Honor Band, and several of its members did well in the solo and ensemble contest held at East Texas in Commerce. The Panther Band also has its own Honor Award. Each of the members who learns assigned scales and is able to play required music will receive an award this spring.

The Panther Band prepares to practice in the uniforms they received last fall.

Band Activities

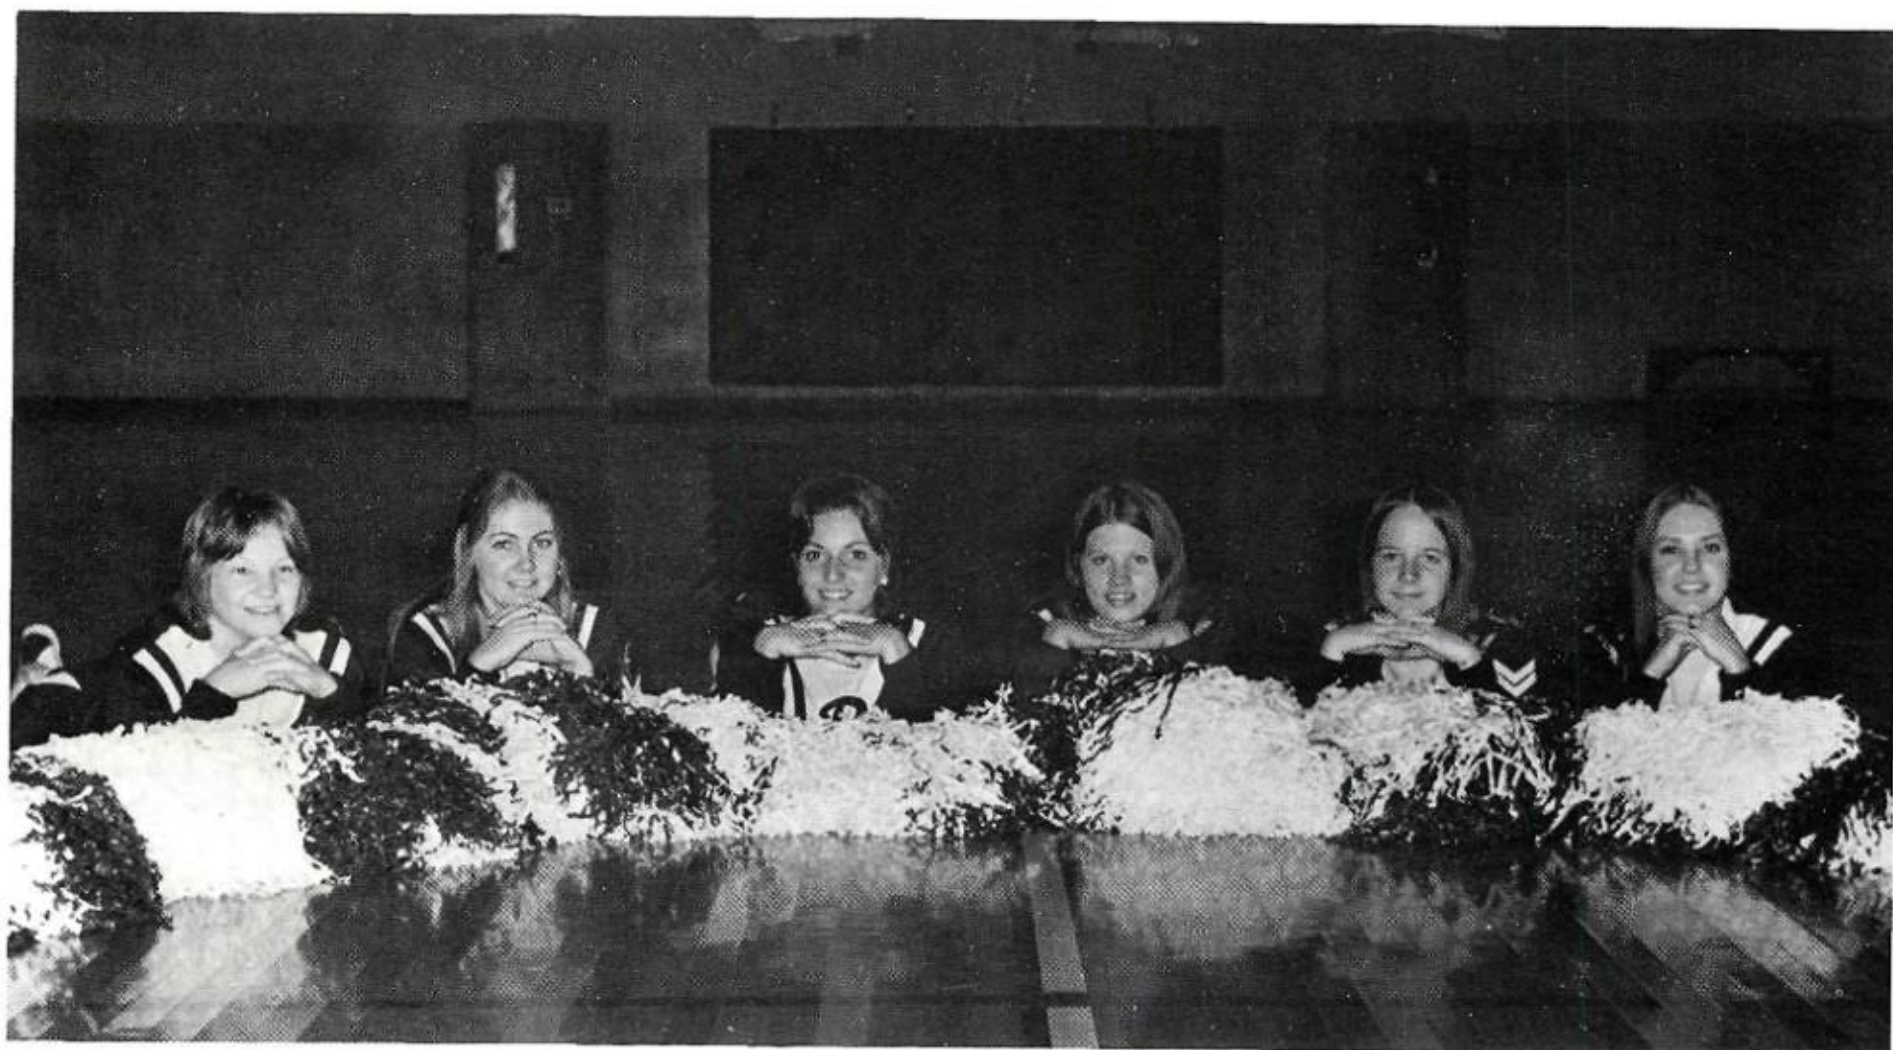

Mrs. Mattei holds the Sandy Lake trophy and the plaque presented to her by the band.

Band Sweetheart and Beau

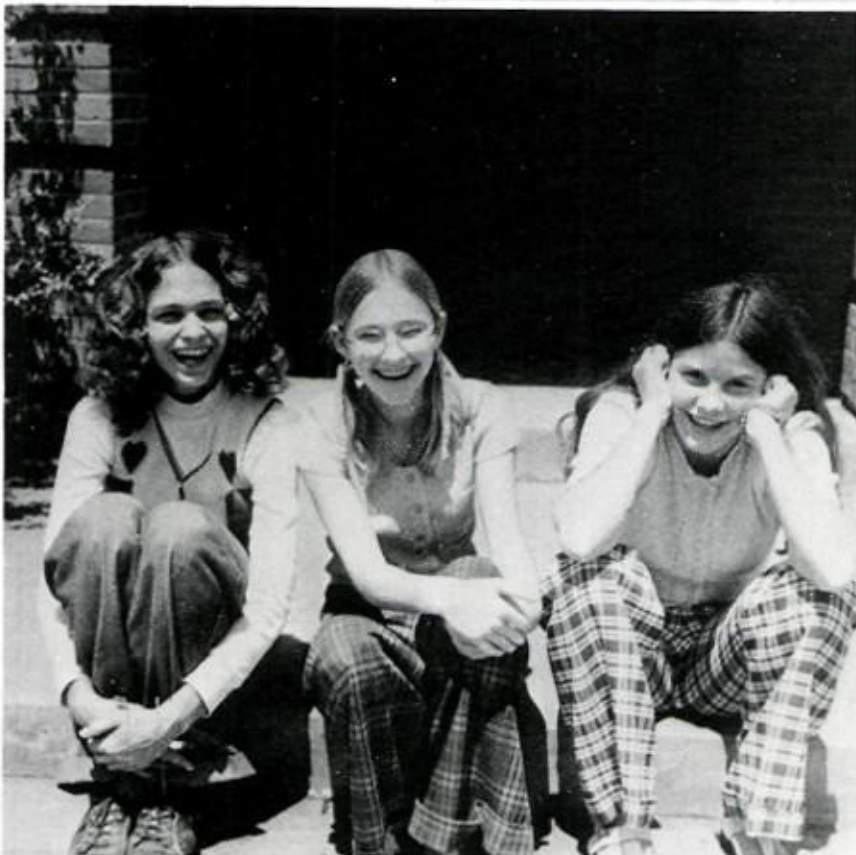

The Panther band's sweetheart and beau are Pam Dean and Jerry Kirby. They are the first two people to be given this honor, although there are probably many more sweethearts and beaus to go.

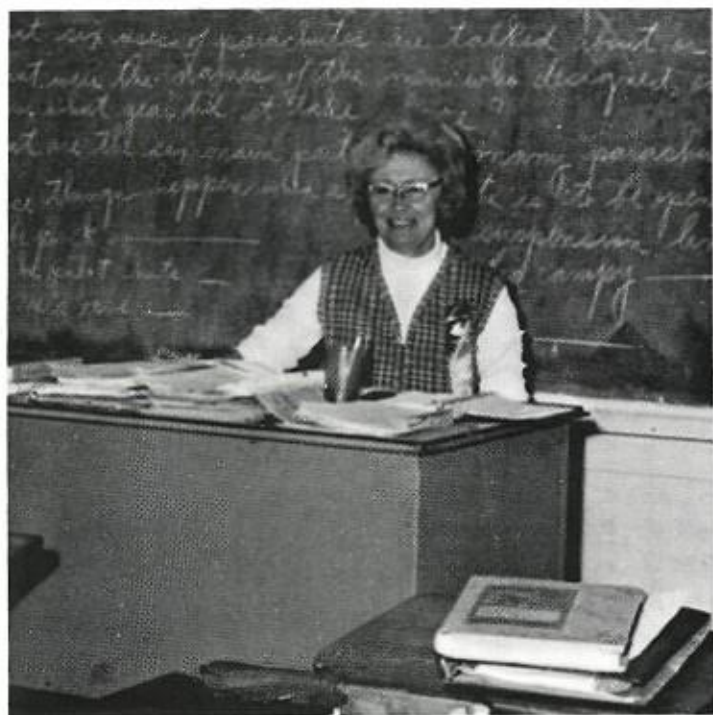

The Band practices faithfully on music for the marching season.
